ABOUT ME

Passionate Web Developer and UI/UX Designer with experience in building responsive websites, web applications, and user-centered digital experiences. Currently pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Interaction Design at Anant National University. Skilled in modern web technologies, UI/UX design, and leveraging AI-powered development tools to accelerate research, prototyping, debugging, content structuring, and workflow optimization. Experienced in knowing when and how to effectively use AI to improve productivity while maintaining high standards of quality, creativity, and problem-solving. With hands-on experience through internships and freelance projects, I focus on creating innovative digital solutions that deliver business value and exceptional user experiences.
